AUGUST 22, 1874.

THE LOCAL PAPER. You owe it to your eyes to read the paper. It is the only one in the city which is not only a paper, but a paper with a character as you would find in any other paper. It is the only one in the city which is not only a paper, but a paper with a character as you would find in any other paper.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

A cross on the wrapper of the GAZETTE signifies that the subscription has expired, and that the paper will be stopped. Those who wish to continue their subscription are requested to send their subscription money as soon as they see the cross.

We regret that our people will not take the trouble to consider the question which we brought before them last week. It is a common report that there are in town some half-dozen drinking places, two or three gambling-hells, and one or more houses of prostitution.

Every one of these places is a plague spot and a curse, and every one of them is prohibited by the law under heavy penalties. The question for the citizens is: Shall they be allowed to continue in existence?

With our eyes upon the evils, will we legal power to suppress them, shall we tolerate them in our midst?

Whilst other communities are struggling to crush the evil influences which have already gained such mighty and overwhelming power among them, shall we flag the rein upon their necks, and let them have a free and unchecked course?

It is for us to prepare ourselves for the consequences. Let the community consider the question, and let the community decide.

For these will be the inevitable results. They have followed the existence of such places, and will follow the world, and we cannot hope for an exception here. If we allow the roots to strike deep into the ground, we shall certainly see the natural growth and the natural fruit. The general result is the same: burdens which will crush the young upon society, and the destruction of the social order.

There is not a citizen here, but who has an interest in the well-being of the community. It is the duty of every citizen to consider the question, and to decide upon the course to be pursued. It is the duty of every citizen to consider the question, and to decide upon the course to be pursued.

NEW LIGHT ON FRUIT-GROWING.

From the country comes the following interesting information: A farmer in the mountains of Colorado has discovered a new method of fruit-growing. He has found that the fruit will grow better if it is planted in a certain way, and that it will grow better if it is watered in a certain way.

Just are Mr. Smith's cherry trees, which died down several years ago, when the original stock was planted, and the trees, half a dozen in number, stood in a row about six feet apart, and this year they have several bushes. The peach trees are a hard-looking lot, but they have grown at all, and there is a much dead wood besides the willow. The peach trees have been bearing, but there were some dozen trees which were bearing, but there were some dozen trees which were bearing, but there were some dozen trees which were bearing.

The third is that the fruit will grow better if it is planted in a certain way, and the fourth is that it will grow better if it is watered in a certain way.
